Anderson Riddles Attempt of United States Attorneys and They Ask Dismissal of Case-Judge Landis' Ruling Reversed by Court of Appeals-Retrial Approves Action.

Chicago, March 19 .- The Standard Oil ompany of Indiana was acquitted of the charge of law-breaking in the Federal Court to-day. On Judge A. B. Anderson's instructions, the jury in the second trial Huge Crowd Seeks Admission of the case brought in a verdict of not guilty to the charges of accepting rebates from the Chicago and Alton Railway.

Thus in a twinkling the great $29,240,000 fine imposed by Judge Landis and re versed by the United States Court of Ap peals was changed to an absolute acquittal, with the expenses of trial thrown on the government.

Judge Anderson utterly riddled the attempt of Assistant United States Attorney James H. Wilkerson to show the admissibility of the Illinois classification to prove the existence of a legal rate of 18 cents, on which the indictments were returned, telling the government attorneys plainly, and then the jury, that the court of appeals had established the law in the case, and that the prosecution had been trying to prove one thing by introducing evidence of another.

Case Seen to Be Hopeless. It was evident early in the morning that the cause of the government was hopeless, and District Attorney Sims and his assistants apparently recognized the inevitable when Judge Anderson announced that the proof relied on in the previous case was incompetent. Immediately following the court's state
